I. INTRODUCTION.....1

II. FACTS REGARDING THE CONTRIBUTIONS OF CLASS COUNSEL AND THE CLASS REPRESENTATIVES IN CREATING THIS COMMON FUND.....3

III. ARGUMENT.....5

A. The Court Should Award the Requested Attorney Fees.....5

1. A Reasonable Percentage of the Fund Recovered is the Appropriate Method For Awarding Class Counsel’s Attorneys’ Fees in this Common Fund Settlement.7

2. A Fee Award of 25% of the Common Fund Is Fair and Reasonable.9

a. Class Counsel Obtained Excellent Results.10

b. This Litigation Was Risky.....11

c. The Settlement Provides Benefits Beyond the Settlement Fund11

d. Class Counsel Carried the Financial Burden of this Litigation, the Time Devoted to this Matter Could Have Been Invested in Other Litigation, and Market Rates for Contingent Litigation Exceed the Recovery Counsel Seek Here13

3. A Lodestar Cross-Check Verifies That The Requested Fee Is Fair and Appropriate.14

4. Conclusion15

B. Reimbursement of Cost and Expenses Reasonably and Necessarily Incurred and Advanced by Counsel is Appropriate.....15

C. An Incentive Award to the Class Representatives is Appropriate 16

1 Plaintiffs hereby respectfully move, pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(h) and 54(d)(2),
2 for an award of attorneys' fees in an amount equal to 25% of the $1,600,000.00 Abrazo
3 Settlement Fund created plus interest earned thereon until the date of payment ("Abrazo
4 Settlement Fund"), reimbursement of costs and expenses in the amount $95,686.01, and 5 incentive awards of $1,500 each to plaintiffs Ms. Stephanie L. Walker and Ms. Barbara A.
6 Craig, and $3,000 to Ms. Cindy Johnson for serving as Class Representatives.

9 Plaintiffs' Motion is based on the memorandum below and its exhibits, and all other
10 pleadings and matters of record. As provided by ¶ 52 of the April 12, 2012 Abrazo Class
11 Settlement Agreement and Release ("Abrazo Settlement Agreement"), the Abrazo
12 Defendants¹ participating in this settlement take no position with respect to Plaintiffs'
13 Motion.²
14

15 I. INTRODUCTION

16 Plaintiffs have reached a proposed settlement with the Abrazo Defendants, the sole 17 remaining defendants in this litigation. The Court has granted preliminary approval to the 18 Abrazo Settlement Agreement, Doc. No. 716 (April 17, 2012), and the Court previously 19 approved settlements with all other defendants (see Doc. Nos. 664, 665) (each dated March 20

22 ¹ The Abrazo Defendants are Hospital Development of West Phoenix, Inc. (c/b/a West
23 Valley Hospital), VHS Acquisition Subsidiary Number 1, Inc. (d/b/a Paradise Valley 24 Hospital), VHS Acquisition Corporation (d/b/a Maryvale Hospital Corporation), VHS of 25 Arrowhead, Inc. (d/b/a Arrowhead Hospital), VHS of Phoenix, Inc. (d/b/a Phoenix Baptist
26 Hospital), and VHS Acquisition Company Number 1, L.L.C. (f/k/a Phoenix Memorial Hospital).

27 ² The Abrazo Settlement Agreement is attached as Exhibit A to Plaintiffs' Motion for 28 Preliminary Approval of Settlement with Abrazo, Certification of Traveler Settlement Class, Approval of the Form of Notice and Memorandum in Support (Doc. No. 715) (April 16, 2012).

1 4, 2011). After additional litigation, Plaintiffs and the Abrazo Defendants, following
2 extensive negotiations including with an outside mediator, reached a settlement that, if finally
3 approved, will bring this litigation to a close.³

5 The Abrazo Settlement Agreement provides additional funds for class members (the 6 “Class”),⁴ and, significantly, brings the Abrazo Defendants under the provisions of the 7 prospective relief previously agreed to by the other hospital defendants, to guard against a
8 repetition of the underlying conduct that spawned this litigation.⁵ Both the cash recovery
9 and the structural relief were the result of this litigation and settlement. The prior action
10 brought by the United States Department of Justice and the Arizona Attorney General (the 11 “DOJ Action”) was brought against the Arizona Hospital and Healthcare Association
12 (“AzHHA”) only, not its member hospitals, and did not seek any compensation for the 13 temporary nursing personnel whose compensation was suppressed by the alleged 14 anticompetitive conduct of AzHHA and the hospitals. Nor was the structural relief obtained
15 by the DOJ expressly aimed at the hospitals.

16
19 The Court’s April 12 Order has set a final Fairness Hearing for August 13, 2012.
20 Doc. No. 716 at ¶ 17. The Court-approved notice informed Class members that Class
21 Counsel would seek an award of attorneys’ fees of up to 25% of the Abrazo Settlement Fund

24 ³ Plaintiffs are not submitting a proposed order at this time, as a form of order was previously
25 submitted as an exhibit to the Abrazo Settlement Agreement. See Abrazo Settlement
26 Agreement at Ex. 6 thereto. Plaintiffs may submit a revised form of order at a later time.

27 ⁴ As defined in ¶¶ 1-2 of this Court’s April 17, 2012 Order Granting Plaintiffs’ Motion for 28 Preliminary Approval of Abrazo Settlement, Certification of the Settlement Class, and Approval of the Form of Notice (Doc No. 716) (“April 17 Order”).

3 In accordance with In re Mercury Interactive Corp. Securities Litigation, 618 F.3d
4 988 (9th Cir. 2010), counsel appointed by this Court as Co-Lead Class Counsel (David F.
5 Sorensen of Berger & Montague, P.C., and David Balto of Law Offices of David Balto), 6 along with other class counsel (Keller Rohrback, P.L.C., Keller Rohrback L.L.P., and 7 Brownstein Hyatt Farber Schreck, LLP) (collectively, “Class Counsel”) respectfully submit 8 this memorandum in support of their motion for an award of attorneys’ fees, reimbursement
9 of costs and expenses, and an incentive award to the Class Representatives for their services
10 to the certified settlement classes. As previously explained in the Mailed and Published
11 Notice, copies of this motion and all supporting materials will be posted on all the Class
12 Counsel’s websites and the website established for this litigation by the Claims
13 Administrator.⁷ Hence, Class Members can review the motion before the July 10, 2012
14 deadline for objections. April 12 Order at ¶15.

19 II. FACTS REGARDING THE CONTRIBUTIONS OF CLASS COUNSEL AND 20 THE CLASS REPRESENTATIVES IN CREATING THIS COMMON FUND

21 Plaintiffs’ Memorandum in Support of their Motion for Preliminary Approval of 22 Settlement with Abrazo (Doc. No. 715), along with Plaintiffs’ prior briefs in support of 23 preliminary and final approval of the prior settlements (Doc. Nos. 639, 660) set forth in some 24 detail the history of this litigation. Subsequent to final approval of the prior settlements on 25

26 _____
27 ⁶ The Mailed Notice was attached as Exhibit 1 and the Published Noticed was attached as 28 Exhibit 2 to the Abrazo Settlement Agreement.

⁷ See Mailed Notice at question/answer No. 18 and Published Notice at 3.

1 March 4, 2011, Class Counsel worked diligently and incurred significant out-of-pocket
2 expenses to continue to litigate this case against the Abrazo Defendants. The monetary
3 recovery and significant structural relief is the result of Class Counsel's continued hard work.

5 Class counsel were required to conduct additional discovery regarding the Abrazo
6 Defendants, including additional document review and depositions, and additional work with 7 an expert economist (Dr. Hal J. Singer) to prepare the case moving forward. See Doc. No.
8 715-6 (list of 23 depositions taken or defended, including five taken after March 4, 2011).

10 Prior discovery had been extensive, including: (1) propounding and enforcing three 11 separate Requests for Production of Documents on Defendants; (2) obtaining and reviewing 12 many thousands of documents from Defendants; (3) obtaining and analyzing electronic data
13 from Defendants; (4) propounding and enforcing discovery upon and reviewing data and 14 documents obtained from thirteen third party temporary nurse staffing agencies pursuant to 15 subpoena; (5) obtaining and reviewing the discovery record from PC Healthcare Enterprises,
16 Inc. dba Health Temp v. Arizona Hospital and Healthcare Association, et al., No. CV-05-
17 1793-PHX-MHM (D.Ariz.); (6) taking or defending 18 depositions which included taking 18 the depositions of current and former employees of Defendants and Defendants' Expert, Dr.
19 David Scheffman, and defending the depositions of the three Class Representatives and 20 Plaintiffs' Expert Dr. Hal J. Singer; and (7) propounding, responding to and negotiating and 21 drafting stipulations to Interrogatories.
22

23 Since final approval of the prior settlements, Class Counsel have invested more than 24 2,500 additional hours in the case, both litigating against the Abrazo Defendants and in 25 preparing for claims distribution for the Class, representing a lodestar of $929,663 at their 26
27
28

1 standard current hourly rates, and have advanced or incurred necessary costs of $95,686.01.
2 See Exs. A-D (declarations of counsel). In addition, Class Counsel will continue to incur
3 additional attorney hours to complete the claims administration process, in connection with 4 final approval of the Settlement, responding to inquiries from Class members, interacting
5 with the settlement administrator, and overseeing disbursements (none of which is included
6 in the current lodestar figure).⁸

9 As to the Class Representatives, during over four years of litigation they have fully 10 cooperated in discovery including responding to document requests (including for certain 11 income tax materials), answering interrogatories, and sitting for depositions. Notably, the 12 initial plaintiffs in this case each filed suit under pseudonyms out of fear of retaliation. After 13 the initial plaintiffs withdrew, the three representative plaintiffs stepped forward and agreed
14 to have their names be made public. Their determination eliminated the issue of the use of 15 pseudonyms from the case, to the benefit of class members. Ms. Johnson, Ms. Walker and 16 Ms. Craig have performed a great service for class members, and the service (or incentive)
17 awards sought are modest.
18

20 III. ARGUMENT

21 A. The Court Should Award the Requested Attorney Fees

22
23 Courts have long recognized that “a private plaintiff, or his attorney, whose efforts 24 create, discover, increase or preserve a fund to which others also have a claim is entitled to 25

27 ⁸ In addition, the Berger & Montague firm alone invested substantial additional time between 28 Jan. 1, 2011 (the cut off used in connection with the firm’s prior fee submission, see Doc.
650-1 at ¶ 4) through March 3, 2011 in connection with briefing on final approval of the prior settlements. That time is not included here, nor was it previously.

1 recover from the fund the costs of his litigation, including attorneys' fees." Vincent v.
2 Hughes Air West, Inc., 557 F.2d 759, 769 (9th Cir. 1977). This doctrine avoids unjust
3 enrichment so that "those who benefit from the creation of the fund should share the wealth
4 with the lawyers whose skill and effort helped create it." In re Washington Pub. Power
5 Supply Sys. Sec. Litig., ("WPPSSSL") 19 F.3d 1291, 1300 (9th Cir. 1994). Pursuant to this
6 doctrine, Class Counsel request an award of attorneys' fees of 25% of the Abrazo Settlement
7 Fund plus all interest earned thereon until the date attorneys' fees and expenses are paid.
8 That would equate to $400,000 (not counting any interest). By comparison, the total lodestar
9 of class counsel (hours worked multiplied by current hourly rates) since March 4, 2011 (the 10 date of final approval of the prior settlements) on the litigation and preparing for claims
11 distribution is $929,663. Thus, plaintiffs seek a fee that would result in a multiplier below 1.
12

15 The Court previously awarded 25% of the prior settlements in attorneys' fees. See
16 Doc. Nos. 664, 665. Calculating the fee award based upon the percentage method is both 17 straightforward and fair under the circumstances of this case, and was the method stated in 18 the Class Notice distributed to Class members. Moreover, cross-checking this fee request 19 against the lodestar fee calculation validates its reasonableness.
20

22 Awarding attorneys' fees in antitrust cases such as this one is particularly appropriate
23 because the Supreme Court has repeatedly recognized the importance of private antitrust
24 litigation as a necessary and desirable tool to assure the effective enforcement of the antitrust
25 laws. See e.g. Pillsbury Co. v. Conboy, 459 U.S. 248, 262-63 (1983); Hawaii v. Standard Oil
26 Co., 405 U.S. 251, 266 (1972). Awards of counsel fees help to ensure adequate enforcement
27 of Class members' legal rights. "A financial incentive is necessary to entice capable 28

1 attorneys, who otherwise could be paid regularly by hourly-rate clients, to devote their time
2 to complex, time-consuming cases for which they may never be paid.” Francisco v.
3 Numismatic Guaranty Corp. of Am., No. 06-61677-CIV, 2008 WL 649124, at * 13 (S.D. Fla.
4 Jan. 31, 2008) (quoting Mashburn v. Nat’l Healthcare, Inc. 684 F. Supp. 679, 687 (M.D.
5 Ala. 1988)).

7 1. A Reasonable Percentage of the Fund Recovered is the 8 Appropriate Method For Awarding Class Counsel’s Attorneys’
9 Fees in this Common Fund Settlement.

10 The Ninth Circuit has approved the use of the percentage method in awarding fees in 11 representative actions. See, e.g., Vizcaino v. Microsoft Corp., 290 F.3d 1043 (9th Cir. 2002).
12 While the Ninth Circuit recently re-affirmed that “[t]he district court may exercise its 13 discretion to choose between the lodestar and percentage method in calculating fees,” 14 Mercury Interactive, 618 F.3d at 992, since Paul, Johnson, Alston & Hunt v. Gaulty, 886
15 F.2d 268 (9th Cir. 1989), district courts in this Circuit have almost uniformly shifted to the 16 percentage method in awarding fees in representative actions.⁹ This movement, which has 17 occurred over the same time frame in many Circuits, follows the findings of a task force
18 established by the Third Circuit to investigate the question of awards of attorney fees in 19
21

24 ⁹ To the extent courts in this Circuit still apply the lodestar method, this tends to occur
25 either: (1) when the primary relief is non-financial, Hanlon v. Chrysler Corp., 150 F.3d 1011,
26 1029 (9th Cir. 1998) (“In employment, civil rights and other injunctive relief class actions, 27 courts often use a lodestar calculation because there is no way to gauge the net value of the 28 settlement or any percentage thereof.”); or (2) to avoid a possible windfall in cases with large settlements early in the litigation where “[t]here has been no discovery, no lengthy settlement negotiations, no protracted litigation of any kind.” Fischel v. Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States, 307 F.3d 997, 1003 (9th Cir. 2002) (citations omitted).

1 common fund cases. See Court Awarded Attorney Fees, Report of the Third Circuit Task
2 Force, 108 F.R.D. 237, 254-59 (1985) (“Task Force”).

3 The trend in this Circuit is consistent with the decisions nationwide awarding fees in 4 common fund cases based on a percentage of the total recovery. See Manual For Complex
5 Litigation (Fourth) §14.121 (2004) (noting that “the vast majority of courts of appeals now
6 permit or direct district courts to use the percentage-fee method in common fund cases”)
7 (footnotes omitted).¹⁰

10 The rationale for compensating counsel on the basis of a percentage of the fund
11 created by their efforts is sound and Plaintiffs respectfully suggest should be followed here, 12 as it was previously by the Court as to the prior settlements. First, it is consistent with 13 practice in the private marketplace where contingent attorney fees are customarily
14 determined as a percentage of recovery. Second, it more closely aligns the lawyer’s interest
15 in being paid a fair fee with the interest of the class in achieving the maximum possible
16 recovery in the shortest amount of time.¹¹ Third, use of the percentage method decreases the 17

20 ¹⁰ See, e.g., In re Thirteen Appeals Arising Out of the San Juan DuPont Plaza Hotel
21 Fire Litig., 56 F.3d 295, 305 (1st Cir. 1995) (“[c]ontrary to popular belief, it is the lodestar
22 method, not the [percentage] method, that breaks from precedent”); Gottlieb v. Barry, 43
23 F.3d 474, 484 (10th Cir. 1994) (fee award should be calculated using the percentage method).
24 See Court Awarded Attorney Fees, Report of the Third Circuit Task Force, 108 F.R.D. 237, 25 254-59 (3d Cir. 1985).

26 ¹¹ The court in Kirchoff v. Flynn, 786 F.2d 320, 325-326 (7th Cir. 1986) explained how 27 the contingent fee method of awarding attorneys’ fees aligned the lawyers’ and clients’
28 interests:

The contingent fee uses private incentives rather than careful monitoring to align the interests of lawyer and client. The lawyer gains only to the extent his client gains . . .
The unscrupulous lawyer paid by the hour may be willing to settle for a lower recovery coupled with a payment for more hours. Contingent fees eliminate this

1 burden on the court (and the resulting delay in distributing funds) by eliminating a full-
2 blown, detailed and time consuming lodestar analysis. See In re Activision Sec. Litig., 723 F.
3 Supp. 1373, 1375 (N.D. Cal. 1989) (lodestar analysis “consume[s] an undue amount of court
4 time with little resulting advantage to anyone, but, in fact, it may be to the detriment of the 5 class members.”).¹²

7 2. A Fee Award of 25% of the Common Fund Is Fair and 8 Reasonable.

9 The Ninth Circuit has adopted a 25% “benchmark” for attorneys’ fee awards in cases
10 with a common fund recovery. Fischel, 307 F.3d at 1006 (“We have established a 25 percent
11 ‘benchmark’ in percentage-of-the-fund cases that can be ‘adjusted upward or downward to 12 account for any unusual circumstances involved in [the] case.’”) (citation omitted). That is 13 the figure this Court approved regarding the prior settlements. See Doc. Nos. 664, 665.
14

15 In evaluating whether any deviation from the benchmark is justified a court may 16 consider (1) the result achieved; (2) the risk of the litigation; (3) non-monetary benefits
17 achieved; (4) market rates; and (5) the extent to which counsel had to forego other work and 18 had to invest significant out-of-pocket funds in the litigation. Vizcaino, 290 F.3d at 1048-49.
19 Plaintiffs respectfully suggest that these factors support the award of 25% sought by Class
20 Counsel.
21

24 incentive and also ensure a reasonable proportion between the recovery and the fees
25 assessed to defendants . . . At the same time it automatically aligns interests of lawyer
26 and client, rewards exceptional successes, and penalizes failure, the contingent fee
27 automatically handles compensation for the uncertainty of litigation.

28 ¹² See also Task Force, 108 F.R.D. at 258 (referring to the lodestar query as the “cumbersome, enervating, and often surrealistic process of preparing and evaluating fee petitions” and favoring the percentage approach).

a. Class Counsel Obtained Excellent Results.

2 The settlement here for $1.6 million, plus prospective structural relief, is a significant
3 achievement. The Abrazo Defendants not only litigated vigorously, their exposure had been
4 limited under the terms of the prior settlements. The prior settling defendants had required,
5 as a condition of the prior settlements, that the Abrazo Defendants get the benefit of a
6 judgment sharing agreement (“JSA”) that all defendants had reached. This was spelled out in 7 the prior settlements. See Doc. 639-2 at ¶¶ 66-68 & Ex. 8 thereto; Doc. No. 639-4 at ¶¶ 66-
8 68; Plaintiffs’ Motion for Preliminary Approval of Settlement with Abrazo, Doc. No. 715 at 9 6.

12 Thus, the Abrazo Defendants’ exposure was limited, while their litigation posture was 13 aggressive, as they conceded nothing, and made clear their plans to challenge both plaintiffs’
14 expert(s) on the merits, and to seek to revisit class certification (as well as continue to raise 15 other defenses including statute of limitations). Despite these, and other, defenses, plaintiffs 16 were able to obtain a settlement of $1.6 million,¹³ as well as important prospective relief.
17

19 It is a good result for the Class that was the result of effective, hard-fought litigation
20 on the part of Plaintiffs’ Counsel.
21
22
23
24

25 ¹³ Up to $275,000 of the Abrazo Settlement Fund may be used for notice and claims
26 administration costs (additional Abrazo settlement funds may be used with Court approval).
27 Abrazo Settlement Agreement, at ¶ 50. And up to 9.5% of the net amount may go to the 28 employers’ portion of payroll taxes, as required. Id. ¶ 63 and Exs. 1-2 thereto (forms of class notice, as substituted with Court approval, see Order dated April 18, 2012, Doc. No. 718).
Thus, while the additional monetary recovery is not huge, it should be evaluated in the context of the overall litigation results.

1 b. This Litigation Was Risky

2 For the purpose of evaluating this factor, risk is to be measured at the outset of the 3 litigation. Fischel, 307 F.3d at 1009. Though this case was filed following a government
4 investigation, as noted, the DOJ Action neither sought nor obtained any compensation for 5 temporary nursing personnel. Nor did the DOJ Final Judgment entered name any of the 6 hospitals.¹⁴

8 The DOJ Action, since it did not seek damages, did not have to develop the kind of 9 factual and expert evidence required in this litigation. Nor was class certification an issue.
10 Nor did AzHHA confess liability in the DOJ Action (and, again, none of the hospitals named 11 as Defendants in this litigation were defendants in the DOJ Action). At the outset of this 12 case, therefore, Class Counsel faced a number of significant risks of ever obtaining recovery
13 for class members or being compensated for their work and expenditures.
14

16 c. The Settlement Provides Benefits Beyond the Settlement
17 Fund

18 The Abrazo Settlement Agreement provides an additional recovery to Class
19 members, and includes structural relief that will benefit them. AzHHA, which is subject to 20 the DOJ Final Judgment until 2017, previously agreed to an additional five years of 21 prospective relief on top of that, which provides that AzHHA will not operate its Registry
22 Program in a manner that violates Section 1 of the Sherman Act, 15 U.S.C. § 1, the Arizona
23 state antitrust act, A.R.S. § 44-1401, and the limitations imposed by the DOJ Final Judgment.
24
26

27 ¹⁴ See United States of America v. Arizona Hospital and Healthcare Association and 28 AzHHA Service Corp., NO. CV07-1030, Final Judgment (attached as Ex. 3 to Plaintiffs’ Motion for Class Certification dated December 22, 2009 (Doc. No. 403) (“ DOJ Final Judgment”) .

1 See AzHHA Settlement Agreement (Doc. 639-4) at ¶ 70. Similarly, the other previously 2 settling defendants agreed to seven years of prospective relief (beginning when the 3 settlements became final) with provisions and restrictions similar to those agreed to by 4 AzHHA. See Doc. No. 639-2 at ¶ 70.¹⁵ Defendants agreed that Plaintiffs or other Class
5 members may bring an action to enforce compliance with these provisions and, in the event 6 of such an action, defendants agreed to expedited proceedings, and that, “in the event the 7 Court finds any Settling Defendant to be in breach . . . such Settling Defendant shall pay
8 Plaintiffs, or other Class member, their reasonable attorneys’ fees, costs and expenses, in 9 addition to any other relief awarded by the Court.” Id.

12 The Abrazo Defendants have agreed to the same provisions as the other hospital
13 defendants. Abrazo Settlement Agreement at ¶ 65 (prospective relief provisions). See 14 Staton v. Boeing, 327 F.3d 938, 946 (9th Cir. 2003) (“The fact that counsel obtained
15 injunctive relief in addition to monetary relief for their clients is, however, a relevant 16 circumstance to consider in determining what percentage of the fund is reasonable as fees”); 17 Craft v. San Bernadino et al., 624 F.Supp. 2d 1113, 1121 (C.D. Cal. 2008) (“Nor can the 18 results in this case be judged solely by the monetary component of the settlement. . .
19 .Attorneys’ fees [in class action cases] may be awarded even though the benefit conferred is 20 purely non-pecuniary in nature”) (internal citations and quotations omitted).

27
28 ¹⁵ While this Court suggested that it believed the DOJ Final Judgment did bind the defendant hospitals here, see Doc. No. 584 (Class Order) at 9-10, the defendant hospitals denied that.

1 d. Class Counsel Carried the Financial Burden of this
2 Litigation, the Time Devoted to this Matter Could Have
3 Been Invested in Other Litigation, and Market Rates for 4 Contingent Litigation Exceed the Recovery Counsel Seek
5 Here

6 The Ninth Circuit has confirmed that a determination of a fair and reasonable fee
7 must include consideration of the contingent nature of the fee and the obstacles surmounted
8 in obtaining the settlement.

9 It is an established practice in the private legal market to reward attorneys for 10 taking the risk of non-payment by paying them a premium over their normal 11 hourly rates for winning contingency cases. See Richard Posner, Economic 12 Analysis of Law, § 21.9, at 534-535 (3d ed. 1986). Contingent fees that may 13 far exceed the market value of the services if rendered on a non-contingent
14 basis are accepted in the legal profession as a legitimate way of assuring 15 competent representation for plaintiffs who could not afford to pay on an 16 hourly basis regardless whether they win or lose.

17 WPPSSSL, 19 F.3d 1291, 1299 (9th Cir. 1994).

18 Class Counsel continued to litigate this case against the Abrazo Defendants and 19 prepare for claims distribution without any compensation, expending more than 2,500
20 additional hours. The 25% figure is a commonly accepted benchmark in this circuit, was 21 approved by the Court previously in this case, and is below the standard privately-negotiated
22 contingent fee recovery of 33% or more. See, e.g., F. Patrick Hubbard, Substantive Due
23 Process Limits on Punitive Damages Awards: “Morals Without Technique”?, 60 FLA. L.
24 REV. 349, 383 (2008) (referring to “the usual 33-40 percent contingent fee”) (citation 25 omitted); Herbert M. Kritzer, The Wages of Risk: The Returns of Contingency Fee Legal 26 Practice, 47 DEPAUL L. REV. 267, 286 (1998) (reporting the results of a survey of 27 Wisconsin lawyers, which found that “a contingency fee of 33% was by far the most 28 common, accounting for 92% of [negotiated fixed percentage contingent fee] cases”).

1 In conclusion, none of the Vizcaino factors here provides any basis for awarding a fee
2 below the Ninth Circuit 25% benchmark.

3 3. A Lodestar Cross-Check Verifies That The Requested Fee Is Fair
4 and Appropriate.

5 Evaluation of the lodestar here confirms the reasonableness of the fee sought. See
6 Carter v. Anderson Merchandisers, LP, 2010 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 55629 at *11-12 (C.D. Cal.
7 May 11, 2010) (applying lodestar cross-check, citing cases). In applying a lodestar cross-
8 check courts engage in a two-step process. First, the lodestar is computed by multiplying the 9 number of hours reasonably expended by the reasonable rates requested by the attorneys.
10 Caudle v. Bristow Optical Co., 224 F.3d 1014, 1028 (9th Cir. 2000). Second, the court may 11 compare the lodestar to the percentage-of-the-fund request made by counsel to determine the 12 multiplier that the percentage method would yield.¹⁶ See Vizcaino, 290 F.3d at 1051 n.6.

13 Class Counsel here have invested 2,522 hours on this matter since March 4, 2011 (the 14 date of final approval of the prior settlements), for a lodestar of $929,663, based upon the 15 current regular hourly rates charged by counsel.¹⁷ See Exs. A-D. Thus, the multiplier 16 produced by cross-checking the 25% award against the total lodestar is below 1 (as it was 17
18 19 20

22 ¹⁶ The cross check requires “neither mathematical precision nor bean counting;” it allows 23 the court to “rely on summaries submitted by the attorneys and [the court] need not review
24 actual billing records,” In re Rite Aid Corp. Sec. Litig., 396 F.3d 294, 306-307 (3d Cir. 2005).

25 ¹⁷ See Fischel 307 F.3d at 1010 (“Attorneys in common fund cases must be compensated
26 for any delay in payment, Coordinated Pretrial, 109 F.3d at 609, and thus Plaintiffs' counsel
27 are entitled to such compensation. ... [T]he district court ha[s] discretion to compensate them 28 either '(1) by applying the attorneys' current rates to all hours billed during the course of the litigation; or (2) by using the attorneys' historical rates and adding a prime rate enhancement.'
" (citation omitted).

1 previously in connection with the prior fee award). See, e.g., Vizcaino, 290 F.3d at 1051 n.6.
2 (observing that 83% of the courts in common fund cases it surveyed assessed a multiplier
3 between 1 and 4.). See, generally, In re Sulzer Hip Prosthesis & Knee Prosthesis Liab.
4 Litig., 268 F. Supp. 2d 907, 938 n.45 (N.D. Ohio 2003) (relying on a 2003 study of fee
5 awards in 1,120 cases to conclude that “the courts’ effective multipliers averaged ... 3.89
6 across all 1,120 cases”).

8 4. Conclusion

10 In light of the above considerations, Plaintiffs suggest that the requested fee award is 11 reasonable and fair.

12 B. Reimbursement of Cost and Expenses Reasonably and Necessarily 13 Incurred and Advanced by Counsel is Appropriate.

14 It is well established that Class Counsel are entitled to reimbursement of all out-of-15 pocket expenses advanced throughout the litigation so long as those expenses were 16 reasonable and necessary to the litigation. Harris v. Marhoefer, 24 F.3d 16, 19 (9th Cir.
17 1994) (approving recovery of “out-of-pocket expenses that ‘would normally be charged to a 18 fee paying client.’”); In re Media Vision Tech’y Secs. Litig., 913 F. Supp. 1362, 1368 (N.D.
19 Cal. 1996) (award of costs subject to reasonableness test).
20

22 Plaintiffs’ outstanding expenses in connection with the continued litigation and 23 preparing for claims distribution (including outstanding expenses that have been incurred, but 24 not yet paid, for court reporters and expert fees totaling $29,207.32) total $95,686.01. See 25 Exs. A-D. See, e.g., In re Omnivision Technologies, Inc., 559 F.Supp.2d 1036, 1048 (N.D.
26 Calif. 2008) (approving expenses for copying, printing, postage, and messenger services,
27 court costs, computerized research, experts, and travel); In re Immune Response Securities
28

1 Litig., 497 F. Supp. 2d 1166, 1177-78 (S.D. Calif. 2007) (approving reimbursement for
2 meals, hotels, transportation, copies, postage, telephone and fax, filing fees, overnight
3 deliveries, online legal research, experts and mediation fees.).

5 C. An Incentive Award to the Class Representatives is Appropriate

6 Finally, it is well-recognized that “named plaintiffs ... are eligible for reasonable
7 incentive payments” as part of a class action settlement. Staton v. Boeing Co., 327 F.3d 938,
8 977 (9th Cir. 2003). The award also compensates class representatives for their time, effort
9 and inconvenience. See Staton, 327 F.3d at 976-77 (collecting cases). When evaluating the 10 reasonableness of a participation award, courts consider factors such as “the actions the 11 plaintiff has taken to protect the interests of the class, the degree to which the class has 12 benefited from those actions ... [and] the amount of time and effort the plaintiff expended in 13 pursuing the litigation.” Id. at 977 (citation omitted). See, e.g., In re Mego Fin. Corp. Sec.
14 Litig., 213 F.3d 454, 457, 463 (9th Cir. 2000) (affirming $5,000 payments from a $1.725 15 million settlement fund).

16
18 19 The Court previously awarded $15,000 each to Ms. Walker and Ms. Craig, and 20 $30,000 to Ms. Johnson for serving as Class Representatives. For their continued service,
21 Plaintiffs respectfully request additional awards of $1,500 each to Ms. Walker and Ms. Craig, 22 and $3,000 to Ms. Johnson (who is the only per diem class representative and serves as the 23 representative of both the Per Diem and the Traveler Settlement Classes). Although these 24 plaintiffs were not required to undertake additional efforts since March 4, 2011, they 25 remained committed to the case, and their continued commitment (after prior class 26 representatives had withdrawn) has permitted the entire Class to benefit.
27

1 IV. CONCLUSION

2 For the reasons stated above:

3 (i) The proposed 25% fee award is fair and reasonable and represents an 4 appropriate percentage recovery from the Common Fund in light of all the circumstances.

6 (ii) The proposed Incentive Awards are fair and reasonable and represent an 7 appropriate reward for the efforts of the Class Representatives in achieving this settlement;

9 (iii) Class Counsel are entitled to recover reasonable and necessary out-of-pocket
10 expenses (including outstanding expenses) of $95,686.01.
